

AQUATIC INVASIVE SPECIES

An Educator's Information and Materials Guide

Directory of Aquatic Invasive Species Resources

This booklet is a compilation of selected educational materials on aquatic invasive species (AIS). Materials have been assembled from agencies nationwide by the University of Minnesota Sea Grant Program to assist K-12 teachers and nonformal educators in raising awareness and integrating AIS studies into their curriculums.

Whether referred to as aquatic invasive species, nonindigenous, nuisance, or exotic species, they all represent the same problem—non-native plants and animals invading and harming U.S. waterways. In their native habitats, these species are often harmless. However, when they enter new waters where natural controls are absent, they may out-compete native plants and animals. They can alter and degrade habitats and deplete food supplies, posing threats not only to the environment, but to the economy, recreation and human health.

The purpose of this guide is to provide educators with a list of AIS resources and a directory of contacts. Entries are listed by categories: curricula, print materials, posters, videos, books, CDs, and Web sites. Lists include titles, abstracts, contact information, and costs.

Availability and costs change periodically and materials may be available free, on loan, or for purchase from Sea Grant programs. To contact an AIS representative from your state Sea Grant program, refer to the contact list in the publication's final section.

For additional Sea Grant sponsored materials, contact the National Sea Grant Library. Their searchable database is at <http://nsgd.gso.uri.edu>.

This guide is intended to be reproduced for redistribution. Please photocopy and distribute to fellow teachers and educators. Additional copies are available from MN Sea Grant. Please contact:
