

Mark A. Anderson

Mark A. Anderson is a Special Agent with the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of the Inspector General (DOJ/OIG) serving as a Program Manager and Instructor at the Inspector General Criminal Investigator Academy (IGCIA) located at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center (FLETC) in Glynco, GA. He is responsible for managing the IGCIAs Advanced Interviewing for Inspector General Investigators and Interviewing for Fraud Auditors training programs. Mr. Anderson also instructs in several other basic and advanced programs for the IGCIAs, primarily in the areas of interviewing and interrogation.

Prior to assuming his position at the IGCIAs, Mr. Anderson was a Detailed Instructor assigned to the Behavioral Science Division (BSD) at the FLETC instructing in both basic and advanced courses to uniformed federal law enforcement and criminal investigators. During his BSD assignment, Mr. Anderson participated in the design, development and implementation of BSD's Advanced Interviewing program.

Mr. Anderson's law enforcement career began 30 years ago as a Forensic Chemist with the New York State Police. He has served as a Special Agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Office of Investigation, and with the DOJ/OIG. Additionally, he has served as a Deputy Inspector General and Director of Internal Audit in the New York State Office of the Inspector General assigned to the Division of Military and Naval Affairs. He has also worked as a Director of Security in the corporate sector.

Mr. Anderson has served as an adjunct instructor in the undergraduate criminal justice program at two liberal arts colleges in Pennsylvania, Alvernia College and Lycoming College. He has developed and instructed courses in terrorism, forensics, fraud and white collar crime. He has also delivered seminars in the area of leadership training, ethics matters and coordinating effective interaction between auditors and investigators.

Mr. Anderson holds a Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry from St. Lawrence University. Additionally, he earned a Master of Science degree in forensic chemistry from Northeastern University. In 1983, he attended and graduated from the FBI Academy. Throughout his career in law enforcement he has completed training in interviewing, forensics, terrorism, and white collar crime and fraud matters.

Mr. Anderson is married and resides in Woodbine, GA with his wife and two of their five children.