

When In Doubt ... Check It Out

Labels can be deceiving

(Listed Company's) Name
(Listed Company's) Address

Model: _____
Size: _____
Serial Number: _____
Lot Number: _____
Location of Manufacture: _____
Date of Issue: _____
Manufacturer's Declared Warranty Period: _____ years.
Threat Level: _____

This model of armor has been determined to comply with NIJ Standard-0101.06 by the NIJ Compliance Testing Program and is listed on the NIJ Compliant Products List.

WARNING!
This garment is rated ONLY for the ballistic threat level stated above. It is NOT intended to protect against rifle fire or sharp-edged or pointed instruments.

* Wear Face ****
This side to be worn against body.

Care Instructions for Ballistic Panel:
(Sample Instructions Shown):
1. Do Not Wash or Dry Clean.
2. Wipe With a Damp Cloth.

Products that bear the ballistic panel label stating, "This model of armor has been determined to comply with the NIJ Standard-0101.06 by the NIJ Compliance Testing Program and is listed in the NIJ Compliant Products List," should be what they are advertised to be. However you won't really know for sure unless you:

- Look at the model designation identified on the armor's ballistic panel label
- Check the Compliant Products List (CPL)
- If the model designation is not on the CPL, then the vest is NOT NIJ compliant

Go to <http://www.justnet.org/pages/BallisticCPL.aspx> to determine that the armor model in question has actually gone through NIJ's Compliance Testing Program. Buyer beware! Double check all products. The only way to be sure that what you have is the real McCoy is to check the NIJ Compliant Products List. Find it at <http://www.justnet.org/pages/BallisticCPL.aspx>.

The same applies to information posted on web sites or included in emails that are marketing body armor alleged to be in compliance with the NIJ Standard-0101.06. Reduced price vests can often be an indication that the vests may be surplus with partially expired warranty periods or bear labels removed from compliant vests.

Still have questions? Call 1-800-248-2742.