The 2013 Budget proposes $19.4 million in new budget authority and $1.0 million transferred from the Disaster Loans Program account for a total of $20.4 million for the Office of Inspector General (OIG). This appropriation provides funds for agencywide audit, investigative, and related functions to promote economy and efficiency in SBA operations and to prevent and detect waste, fraud, and abuse. In addition, the passage of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 provided an additional $10 million, available from 2009 through 2013, for oversight and audit of SBA Recovery Act programs, grants, and projects.

SBA is authorized to issue bond guarantees to surety companies for construction, service, and supply contracts or work orders, and to reimburse these sureties up to 90 percent of the losses sustained if the contractor defaults. SBA's guarantees provide an incentive for sureties to issue bonds to small contractors who could not otherwise secure them and compete in the contracting industry. The American Jobs Act (AJA) includes a proposal to increase the maximum size of surety bond loan guarantees from $2 million to $5 million, to enable small businesses to better compete for and win contracting opportunities. Three million dollars are requested in the AJA for that purpose. Aside from that proposal, it is estimated that there are sufficient funds in reserve to cover the cost of claim defaults in 2013. Therefore, no new appropriated funds are requested in the Budget.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, as amended, this account records the subsidy costs associated with the direct loans obligated and loan guarantees committed in 1992 and beyond (including modifications of direct loans or loan guarantees that resulted from obligations or commitments in any year), as well as administrative expenses of the business loan program. The subsidy amounts are estimated on a present value basis; the administrative expenses are estimated on a cash basis.

For 2013, the Budget proposes $497 million in new budget authority for the Business Loans Program account. This includes $145 million in administrative expenses funding, $349 million in credit subsidy for the Sections 7(a) and 504 guaranteed loan programs, and $2.8 million in credit subsidy for the direct Microloan Program.

The Section 7(a) program provides general business credit assistance. SBA's modeling and budget presentations treat all 7(a) loans as term loans, however, a portion of approvals consist of revolving lines of credit, under which a borrower is able to draw and repay multiple times during the loan term. In order to be consistent with Federal Credit Reform requirements and better reflect the total economic activity supported by the guarantee, SBA will continue to work with OMB on future budget presentations that ensure that the total 7(a) program levels reflect the full revolving lines of credit disbursement and repayment activity. The Budget supports $14 billion in 7(a) term loans and $2 billion for 7(a) revolving lines of credit, which are estimated to support $46 billion in total economic activity through draws and repayments over the life of the guarantee. Based on the maximum draw activity at any one time, the base approval amounts are consistent with the authorized program level of $16 billion. In addition, as part of the Secondary Market Guarantee (SMG) Program, SBA's fiscal agent pools the guaranteed portion of 7(a) loans and sells the securities to investors. This mechanism provides liquidity to lenders participating in the 7(a) loan program. For 2013, the Budget proposes a program level of $12 billion in such securities.

The Section 504 Certified Development Company program is for long-term, fixed-rate financing, and the requested guaranteed loan program level is $6 billion in 2013. The Small Business Investment Company (SBIC) program provides credit to support venture capital investments. The Budget proposes a program level of $3 billion for SBIC Debentures and a $18 million program level for direct Microloans.

Due to the economic crisis and significantly higher default claims, SBA recorded a $1.8 billion upward reestimate in its loan guarantee programs. This additional subsidy cost is covered by appropriations and increases the Federal Budget deficit in 2012. Further, projected economic conditions have doubled the estimated cost of new 7(a) loan guarantees, net of fees, for 2013 compared to 2010.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, as amended, this account records, for loans made pursuant to Section 7(b) of the Small Business Act, as amended, the subsidy costs associated with the direct loans obligated in 1992 and beyond (including modifications of direct loans or loan guarantees that resulted from obligations or commitments in any year), as well as administrative expenses of this program. The subsidy amounts are estimated on a present value basis; the administrative expenses are estimated on a cash basis.

Disaster loans made pursuant to Section 7(b) of the Small Business Act provide Federal assistance for non-farm, private sector disaster losses. Through the disaster assistance program, SBA helps homeowners, renters, businesses of all sizes, and non-profit organizations pay for the cost of replacing, rebuilding or repairing property damaged by disasters. The program is the only form of SBA financial assistance not limited to small businesses. The program provides subsidized loans of up to 30 years to borrowers who have incurred uninsured physical losses or economic injury as the result of a disaster.

In 2013, the Budget supports $1.1 billion in loans, the ten-year average for such loans, excluding outlying events. The Budget does not request new credit subsidy budget authority (BA), as SBA has sufficient unobligated balances to support estimated 2013 loan approvals. However, the Budget does request $167 million in new BA for administrative expenses related to major disasters pursuant to a determination under section 102(2) of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act. This funding will be designated as being for disaster relief under the cap adjustment in section 251(b)(2)(D) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended. SBA expects to reprogram an additional $35 million from unobligated subsidy balances to fund administrative expenses incurred from other disasters, including those declared by the SBA Administrator.
