

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT UNCURRENT AND MUTILATED COINS

1) What is the difference between Uncurrent and Mutilated coins?

UNCURRENT: U.S. coins which are merely worn or reduced in weight by natural abrasion yet are readily and clearly recognizable and machine countable, are classified as Uncurrent Coins.

MUTILATED: All coins that are bent, broken, corroded, not whole, melted together and not machine countable, are classified as Mutilated Coins.

2) Where do I redeem Uncurrent coins?

You should contact your bank to redeem uncurrent coins at face value. (This includes silver coins).

3) Where do I redeem Mutilated coins?

Mutilated coins are redeemable at:

United States Mint
ATTN: Mutilated Coin Redemption Section
P.O. Box 400 for Post Office shipments only
151 N. Independence Mall East
Philadelphia, PA 19106

You may mail them through the U.S. Post Office, Federal Express, UPS, etc. You can also deliver in person to the loading dock located between Race and Arch streets on 4th street. Receiving hours are 6:00AM to 1:00PM, Monday through Friday.

ALL PERSONS DELIVERING COINS TO THE U. S. MINT, MUST FIRST SCHEDULE A DROP OFF DATE AND BE CLEARED BY MINT SECURITY AT LEAST 24 HOURS IN ADVANCE. PLEASE CALL (215) 408-0203 FOR MORE INFORMATION.

4) What information must I supply with my coins?

Name, Address, Telephone Number, and SSN or TIN.

Note: As required by 31 USC 3325(b) and Treasury instructions, a Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) or Social Security Number must be provided for all individuals and entities in order to receive government payment.

5) Are there any mutilated coins that the U.S. Mint will not redeem?

The following will not be redeemed by the U.S. Mint:

Fused material unrecognizable as U.S. currency.

Foreign coins.

Counterfeit coins and slugs.

Altered coins, changed to pass as another denomination. Coins or lumps of coins, which contain lead, solder or other substances, which would make them unsuitable for use as coinage metal. Precious coins (gold or silver).

Note: There is a minimum of 1LB or .45KG per denomination or separated alloy that can be accepted for redemption. Any underweight coin will not be processed for redemption and all shipping expenses and risk involved with the Mutilated coins shipped to the Mint will be incurred by the shipper.

6) Do I have to separate the coins, pennies from nickels, etc?

Yes, each coin must be separated by Alloy.
