Dear Senator Tunney:

I have your letter of August 16, 1974 regarding the deportation matter of Mr. John Lamm.

Mr. Lamm entered the United States as a visitor in August, 1971 and was authorized to remain until February 29, 1972. As a result of his failure to leave that departure date, he was informed that he was expected to depart by March 15, 1972, and that failure to comply would result in the institution of deportation proceedings.

Upon his failure to depart, a deportation hearing was held and the immigration judge found that Mr. Lamm was deportable in that he had remained in the United States for longer time than permitted. The immigration judge granted Mr. Lamm 60 days in which to depart voluntarily from the United States in lieu of deportation. He appealed the immigration judge's decision to the Board of Immigration Appeals.

On July 10, 1974, the Board of Immigration Appeals dismissed Mr. Lamm's appeal and granted him 60 days from the date of that decision in which to depart voluntarily from the United States.

Relative to your inquiry as to the appeal alternatives open to Mr. Lamm, you are advised that pursuant to Section 106 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, judicial review of a final order of deportation may be filed within six months from the date of the final deportation order.

Mr. Lamm is guaranteed and indeed has received the same constitutional rights of "due process" and "equal protection under the law" as would any other alien or citizen of this country, and you may be assured that he received a fair and impartial deportation hearing.

Thank you for your interest in this matter.

Sincerely,

L. F. Chapman, Jr.

Re: John Winston Ono Lennon v. Elliot Richardson et al
73 Civ. 4476 (RO)

Dear Mr. Marro,

I refer to your letter of June 13, 1974 in the above case, in which you informed me that you were forwarding all of the decisions (1,863) to approved non-priority cases to my office. This will confirm our telephone conversation soon thereafter that the package received by my office contained only about 540 decisions. On July 10th however, you advised me by telephone that the remaining decisions were being mailed to me.

Further confirming our conversation of July 10th, you agreed to attempt to furnish all information to which we are entitled in this case and I agreed to write to you specifying in a general way the additional information needed. The following data, in addition to the missing decisions is needed:

1. Proof that the decisions being furnished by you constitute all existing decisions throughout the United States of approved non-priority cases and that the records furnished are accurate.
2. Proof that there are no other similar categories, programs or procedures whereby deportable aliens are permitted to remain in the United States for extended periods of time for any reason whatsoever other than the non-priority category (e.g. "Special Projects"; indefinite voluntary departure, etc.).

3. The procedures and practices followed in the non-priority and under any other similar program by which determinations are made to permit deportable aliens to remain in this country: the operating practices rules, procedures and practices of any persons or bodies making such determinations; the names and titles of such persons; whether minutes or other records of their deliberations are taken.
4. The standards or criteria for decisions to permit deportable aliens to remain whether rules, procedures, practices or minutes are kept; if in writing, copies are respectfully requested.
5. Records of cases rejected or denied at any level of the decision-making process.
6. The method of classifying, filing and record-keeping with respect to approved and denied cases.
7. The procedure followed for periodic review of approved and denied cases.

I have found a number of decisions to be pertinent to our inquiry and I take the opportunity to attach a copy of one of the decisions, a young man from Trinidad residing in New York, to illustrate the point that the use of these decisions in my appeal of the Lennon deportation case is most urgent.

If the information specified above can be furnished promptly without the necessity of deposing witnesses, we have agreed that such procedure would be preferable. However, since this action is statutorily entitled to prompt disposition I would appreciate hearing from you as soon as possible as to what additional information can be made available.

Very truly yours,

LEON WILDES.

Viet Aide Affirms Prison Horrors

Jack Anderson
and Les Whitten

Rumors of injustice and corruption in Saigon have always been rife, but only rarely do secret documents from South Vietnam's own leaders confirm the existence of such sordid conditions.

The documents, directly from the files of Premier Tran Thien Khiem, show that prisoners were held without trial for up to five years and that others were acquitted but remained locked up.

In classified memos begging his ministers of justice and interior and the national police chief to discipline their underlings, the premier, a reputedly decent man, admits such horrors exist.

"Persons have been indicted and held for exceedingly long periods of time without being brought to trial," Khiem said. There are "191 prisons . . . in Chau Doc re-education center; many have been held for two to five years without trial."

Some suspects, including a "peasant woman from Ba Xuyen" were held without trial then transferred to another camp where "they were virtually forgotten." Eventually, they were found not guilty.

But even those proven guiltless may languish in prison, Khiem complained. "After being acquitted or given suspended sentences (victims) were nonetheless held in prison (in) An Xuyen and Chau Doc provinces." Some of these abuses, wrote Khiem, can be eliminated if "dishonest officials" are fired.

In a three-point program, the premier urges his interior, justice and national police aides to accord suspects their rights and come down on recalcitrant police who "decrease the honor of the National Police forces and prestige of the government."

Footnote: In fairness, it should be said that the police and prison system in North Vietnam are worse. In our visits to Vietnam and talks with captured Communists, we have found little evidence that Hanoi believes in the humane treatment of prisoners. And the torture stories of U.S. POWs, for example, brought no call for prison reform from North Vietnamese leaders.

Beatle Blues—In a case with Watergate overtones, ex-Beatle John Lennon is being hustled out of the United States on a six-year-old hashish charge while more than a hundred aliens with similar or worse drug records remain.

The singer-composer's major problem does not appear to be his 1968 guilty plea in England to unwitting possession of a small amount of "hash." Rather, his offense seems to be outspoken opposition to the Vietnam war, and false rumors that he was going to lead a demonstration against Richard Nixon at the 1972 GOP convention.

We have learned that Lennon's serious troubles with the Immigration and Naturalization service, a branch of the Justice Department, began after Sen. Strom Thurmond (R-S.C.), began to find him troublesome.

In early 1972, Thurmond wrote a note about Lennon's activities to his friend, then-Attorney General John N. Mitchell. The cantankerous but candid Thurmond conceded to us he wrote to Mitchell but explained it was an informational letter about Lennon, not one calling for action.

Nevertheless, action swiftly followed the letter. Leonard Wildes, Lennon's lawyer and former president of the prestigious Association of Immigration and Nationality Lawyers, told us:

"I intend to prove the letter resulted in instructions to then District Director (of Immigration in New York) Sol Marks to disregard Lennon's other equities and to scuttle any applications he might file until after he had been deported."

The record indeed shows that within days of Thurmond's letter, a stay for Lennon was revoked and strict deportation proceedings began.

Other records at the immigration office show that more than 100 aliens with drug records have, unlike Lennon, been granted "nonpriority decisions" which permit them to stay in the United States indefinitely.

Our investigation turned up aliens not only with heroin and marijuana convictions, but rape, murder, robbery, burglary, auto theft, perjury and even bigamy. All have been allowed to stay in the United States for "humanitarian" reasons.

In one case, an alien had six different convictions, including drug violations and rape. Another was described in immigration files as one of "the largest suppliers of marijuana and narcotics" in his area. At one time, an alien himself admitted to a "heroin habit costing $80 a day."

Compared to these, Lennon looks like a choir boy.

Unlike many other foreign stars who make big money in the United States and run, Lennon has begged for permission to remain here. His musical enterprises have generated some $50 million worth of business and brought untold tax revenues to local, state and federal collectors.

The singing star has summed up his feelings about the immigration mess and his love for the United States this way:

" . . . Nobody came to bug us, hustle us or shove us, so we decided to make (the U.S.) our home. If the man wants to shove us out, we gonna jump and shout, 'the Statue of Liberty said, 'come!' "

Footnote: A spokesman for immigration chief Leonard Chapman said the Lennon case is being handled in a "routine way." Retired District Director Marks declined comment.

Ingenious Jean Marsh, creator of "Upstairs, Downstairs" and portrayer of Rose, the program's ever popular parlor maid, soon will be doubling as the Alistair Cooke of the animated cartoon set.

JEAN MARSH
Animation Hostess

Miss Marsh will be fetched from Britain to San Francisco to perform as hostess for "International Animation Festival," a new series that KQED, Channel 9, has sold for distribution on the PBA network beginning March 4.

The executive producer is Sheldon Renan of the Pacific Film Archive, UC-Berkeley. Renan and the Archive are emerging as towering new factors in Channel 9's fiscal future.

Another forthcoming Pacific Film Archive project produced through KQED is "The Japanese Film" series hosted by former Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer and scheduled for the PBS network beginning January 9.

The selling of any network series spells extra production money in the kitty and heaven knows KQED can always use money for a kitty. The station last year did not place a single substantial series.

The big PBS series attractions — "Masterpiece Theater," "Hollywood Television Theater," "Washington Week in Review," "Sesame Street," etc. — rolled out of Boston, Los Angeles, Washington, D.C., New York and other production centers. KQED general manager William E. Osterhaus submitted 11 network series ideas for next season. He sold three for a batting average of .272. Not bad for a production team that last season struck out.

Stocks spurt on chance of early impeachment

Associated Press

NEW YORK — The stock market took a spectacular upward jump today, impelled by what brokers described as hopes for an early resolution of the impeachment issue.

In the first half hour of trading the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 25.82 points at 786.22. It was one of its biggest half hour gains ever.

The biggest gain ever recorded by the Dow for a full half-hour session was 32.93 points on Aug. 16, 1971, after President Nixon announced a sweeping series of economic measures, including a wage-price freeze and a devaluation of the dollar.

Gainers led losers in today's trading on the New York Stock Exchange by a one-sided 7-1 margin.

Turnover was very active.

Brokers said today's rally was spurred by a series of developments that seemed to increase the likelihood of a speeding up in the process of determining Nixon's future in office.

The first, they said, was the call for Nixon's resignation yesterday by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, the second ranking Republican in the Senate.

That was followed after he close yesterday by a statement from Nixon announcing the release of transcripts of three conversations which he said "may further damage my case."

Newspapers across the country reported this morning. The impeachment issue was waning. Brokers said a key point in investors' minds was the hope of stabilizing the country's political situation so that economic problems such as inflation and high interest rates could be given first priority in Washington.

"More and more people have been coming to the belief that as long as the impeachment situation goes along, the economic problems we have would be neglected in Washington," said Alan C. Poole at Laidlaw-Coggeshall Inc.

Typical of the sharp gains in many individual issues were Halliburton's 3¾ rise to 136; DuPont's 2½-point gain to 153, and Eastman Kodak's 3% jump to 90½.

David Janssen and Buddy Greco's ex-wife, Dani, have finally decided to get married—on St. Valentine's Day next year.

John Lennon, who's been ordered to leave the U.S. within a few weeks' time because of a marijuana possession conviction in London six years ago, hasn't given up hope yet. Lennon now has political lobbyists working overtime in Washington trying to influence members of both the Senate and the House Immigration Committees to sponsor legislation that would prevent the government from refusing to grant U.S. citizenship to anyone convicted on pot charges. If that works, Lennon intends to become an American citizen.

Elliott Gould

Mick Jagger

Suzy: New York

Mick made the party

When Genevieve Waite and her husband, John Phillips, arrived at Le Club (Elliott Gould was giving a party there for Genevieve) they had old Mick Jagger in tow. Would you believe Mick flew all the way over from London for the party? Well, he did, the precious thing. Mick was wearing a light-blue sweat shirt and printed blue silk pants. So adorable. Mick has rented a house right next to the Phillipases in Montauk for the months of August and September. Is that a good friend?

The reason for the party — there's always a reason — was to launch Genevieve's album, "Romance Is on the Rise." To be sure everybody noticed her, Genevieve wore a red silk print dress which she stripped off later, displaying cream-colored antique silk shorts and bra. What else would you wear to do your number?

Elliott Gould was in a beige knit suit. Jennifer O'Neill, who is supposed to be marrying Elliott (and who is in town) was definitely not there. When someone asked Elliott if she was coming, he said he hoped so. So much for long engagements.

DD and Johnny Ryan nipped in from Nantucket on one of their rare summer visits to the city. DD was wearing pale silk print pajamas. Johnny had on a red corduroy jacket. He always was trendy.

Susan Shiva was wearing a long white pleated silk dress, and Gil Shiva was wearing a white safari suit. Very bwana.

Maxime de la Falaise McKendry wore one of her long blue-and-white silk prints. She'll soon be appearing in "Dracula." (That nice girl?)

Peter Beard returned from a photographic assignment in Mexico just in time for the party. He was with photographer Barbara Allen, of whom he's been seeing quite a lot. She's also been seeing quite a lot of him. Tit for tat.

Michelle Phillips, John Phillips' second wife (Genevieve is his third), arrived in a black pants suit and a gardenia in her long sandy hair. She flew in from Beverly Hills for the party and flew right out again the next day. (What's the big hurry, honey?)

Marsia Trender, who designs Genevieve's clothes, was t here with "her steady beau, Lenny Holzer. Marsia wore a long pink dress and a huge deep dark delicious red feather boa.

Hiram Keller was there in his usual fedora and a white linen suit. Cat Stephens, the rock star, appeared in an orange Eric Clapton T-shirt. Cat threw a glass of white wine at two photographers. He hit Elliott Gould. Then Cat tried to hit another photographer with his walking stick. Someone should send him back to his sand box.

Lorna Luft came with her stepmother Patti Luft. Yvonne Elliman, the guitarist, came with stitches in her thumb. Yvonne stopped a bottle while she was appearing with Eric Clapton in Providence one night last week. That's entertainment?

A critical appraisal of

By Arthur Bloomfield

Looking like an elderly Buddha in grey flannel, his twinkly quality a little muted but his flow of epigrams pretty much intact, Virgil Thomson met the press yesterday prior to taking up his role as composer-in-residence at the Dominican College Summer Center of the Arts.

What lured the composer of "Four Saints in Three Acts" to Dominican, I asked, and Thomson pepped back with four words: "A very good fee!" Ah, that's what I get for asking a dumb question.

Talk moved on to the craft of music criticism. Thomson was a crisp and much-read critic on the old New York Herald-Tribune in the '40s, and he's going to lecture on the subject to teenage students during the Summer Center innings.

"Why talk about criticism? Well," said Thomson, "it's one of my most entertaining lectures, and after all, we're stuck with reading newspapers that print the stuff.

"What I tell the kids is pretty simple. You see, a music critic has only got to ask himself, 'Did I say what I mean, and am I willing to mean what I said?' In the last analysis liking or disliking a piece of music has nothing to do with the critic's responsibility. But if he can find out what the music's about, and tell his readers, well now, that's a good idea."

When someone suggested that critics ought to be issued licenses, the standards for hiring of such animals being rather vague, Thomson noted that the Rockefeller Foundation has had a

"But that setup hasn't turned out one really distinguished critic. The program's teacher-critics spend more time telling their students how to avoid offending managing editors than they do teaching them how to write good English."

Thomson is also down for a composition seminar at Dominikan. "I imagine what I'll do is ask the students to show me their compositions and I'll tell them whether they're good or lousy. You certainly can't lecture about composition."

A steady diet of compos-

JOHN LENNON
Deportation appeal denied

United Press International
WASHINGTON — Singer-composer John Lennon, the Beatle who moved from the pinnacle of rock-'n-roll to the front ranks of the peace movement, has been ordered to leave the country because of an old marijuana charge.

The Justice Department said yesterday that Lennon, 34, a British citizen, has been ordered to depart voluntarily in 60 days or be deported because of a guilty plea to marijuana possession in England six years ago.

nation were on strike while talks were temporarily recessed in San Francisco with American Smelting and Refining Co., in Phoenix with Phelps Dodge Co. and in Tucson with Magma Copper Co. About 16,000 of the strikers work in Arizona.

Lennon's lawyer, Leon Wildes, said in New York he would appeal in federal court the Board of Immigration Appeals ruling.

"I would say if he (Lennon) tells me he is interested in staying on, he will be here a number of years until it's resolved," said Wildes. "John has been here since August, 1971, and the government wanted him out since March, 1972, and he's still here."

The Immigration Board ruled unanimously that Lennon was not entitled to extension of his non-immigrant visa because of the marijuana conviction.

Lennon and his supporters claim the government wants him deported because of his strong anti-war views.

Lennon's estranged wife, Yoko Ono, won permanent residence status in February, 1972, when Lennon was first ordered to leave the country.

A friend quoted Yoko as saying about the order for Lennon's departure: "I'm very saddened by the news ... I hope that he will be allowed to stay in the country he loves so much."

Nixon's Renschburg -- clown to scholar

United Press International

WASHINGTON — Three months before naming him to the Supreme Court President Nixon wasn't sure of William Rehnquist's name and referred to him as a "clown."

Evidence released today by the House Judiciary Committee cites a conversation between the President, domestic adviser John Ehrlichman and aide Egil Krogh in July, 1971, in which they were discussing instituting massive numbers of lie detector tests to deter-however, we, us, we had that meeting. You remember that meeting we had when I told that group of clowns we had around here. Renschburg and that group. What's his name?

EHRlichman: Rehnquist.

PRESIDENT: Yeah, Rehnquist.

Less than three months later, Nixon appointed Rehnquist, who had been legal counsel at the Justice Department, to the Supreme Court and said of him:

TV coverage of Judiciary panel voted

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The House Rules Committee took the first step today toward opening up the Judiciary Committee's final debate on impeachment for television and radio coverage.

The Rules Committee approved, 10 to 3, a resolution which would allow the Judiciary Committee to vote to allow electronic coverage.

The House is scheduled to vote on the resolution Monday. If it passes, the final decision would be up to the Judiciary Committee.

I have your letter of August 8, 1974 concerning the deportation case of Mr. John Lennon.

Your plea for leniency in Mr. Lennon's case is well taken; however, there are no provisions in the Immigration and Nationality Act as amended whereby a waiver of excludability may be granted to a person who has been convicted of a narcotics violation.

I regret that my reply is not favorable.

Sincerely,
