

Jessica Smith-Kaprosy

Policy Analyst

Ms. Smith-Kaprosy is an enrolled member of the Bay Mills Indian Community. She joined IHS in 2010 through the US Department of Health and Human Services Emerging Leaders Program. She is responsible for a broad variety of assignments including the analysis of new and existing regulations, policies, and procedures; production of reports and written materials; and formulation of responses to informational requests from internal and external customers. She previously interned with the Office of Tribal Self-Governance through the Washington Internships for Native Students Program. Ms. Smith-Kaprosy holds a Juris Doctor from the University of Chicago Law School where she focused on health law and Federal regulatory law, including participation in the University of Chicago Law School Mandel Legal Aid Clinic Mental Health Project and internships with the Department of Health and Human Services Office for Civil Rights, the Securities and Exchange Commission Enforcement Division, and the National Indian Gaming Commission. She also holds a Bachelor of Arts in Religious Studies and Classical Humanities from the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

