

Office of NIH History, DeWitt Stetten Jr. Museum of Medical Research

Artifact Donation

The Stetten Museum collects, preserves and interprets scientific instruments and other objects important to the history of the National Institutes of Health. To do this, we also preserve the knowledge associated with them. The more we know about historic artifacts, the more meaningful they are to future generations.

Name of object _____

Today's date ___ / ___ / ___

Your name/title _____

Institute, lab, or office _____

NIH address _____

Phone/email _____

Describe what is known about this object and why it is of historic importance

Transportation concerns _____

Return form to:

Michele Lyons
Bldg. 45 Room 3AN38 MSC 6330
National Institutes of Health

Bethesda, MD 20892-2092
or email lyonsm@od.nih.gov