comments: So where did they get the virus, Lawyer? Of course, you'll tell them at a restaurant, when in fact most infections of food borne illnesses are from the customers own filthy homes.

That unfortunate fact doesnt serve your the law profession, but I assure you people like myself in hospitality training and certification are doing are best to put people like you out of business, first and foremost for the customers safety, secondly because for once it would be to take food out a lawyer's mouth...Sort of ironic, you shut down restaurants, I shut down lawyers...Lol

Have a bad, bad day you Parasite.
