FAA AD Differences

Note 2: This AD differs from the MCAI and/or service information as follows: Although European Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) Airworthiness Directive 2010–0194, dated September 29, 2010, specifies both revising the maintenance program to include limitations, and maintaining CDCCLs, this AD only requires the revision. Requiring a revision of the maintenance program, rather than requiring maintaining CDCCLs, requires operators to record AD compliance only at the time the revision is made. Maintaining CDCCLs specified in the airworthiness limitations must be complied with in accordance with 14 CFR 91.403(c).

Other FAA AD Provisions

(j) The following provisions also apply to this AD:

(1) Alternative Methods of Compliance (AMOCs): The Manager, International Branch, ANM–116, Transport Airplane

I. Background

Section 108 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002¹⁵ (the “Sarbanes-Oxley Act”) amended Section 19(b) of the Securities Act¹⁶ to provide that the Commission may recognize, as generally accepted for purposes of the securities laws, any accounting principles established by a standard-setting body that meets specified criteria. On April 25, 2003, the Commission issued a policy statement concluding that the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) and its parent organization, the Financial Accounting Foundation, satisfied the criteria for an accounting standard-setting body under the

Sarbanes-Oxley Act, and recognizing the FASB’s financial accounting and reporting standards as “generally accepted” for purposes of the Federal securities laws.¹⁷

On June 30, 2009, the FASB issued FASB Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 168, The FASB Accounting Standards Codification™ and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles—a replacement of FASB Statement No. 162 (“Statement No. 168”), to establish the FASB Codification as the source of authoritative non-Commission accounting principles recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities in the preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“U.S. GAAP”). Statement No. 168 became effective for financial statements issued for interim and annual periods ending after September 15, 2009. The FASB Codification reorganizes existing U.S. accounting and reporting standards issued by the FASB and other related private-sector standard setters. All guidance contained in the FASB Codification carries an equal level of authority.¹⁸

The FASB Codification affects those Commission rules, regulations, releases, and staff bulletins (collectively referred to in this release as “Commission rules and staff guidance”) that refer to specific FASB standards or other private sector standard-setter literature under U.S. GAAP, because such references are now superseded by the FASB Codification. As is discussed further below, on August 18, 2009, the Commission issued interpretive guidance¹⁹ to avoid confusion on the part of issuers, auditors, investors, and other users of financial statements about the use of U.S. GAAP references in Commission rules and staff guidance.

II. Discussion

Many parts of Commission rules and staff guidance include direct references to specific standards under U.S. GAAP. For example, Regulation S-X—which, together with the Commission’s Financial Reporting Releases, sets forth the form and content of and requirements for financial statements required to be filed with the Commission²⁰—includes references to specific standards under U.S. GAAP.²¹ In addition, some parts of Commission rules and staff guidance outside of the financial statement context include references to specific standards under U.S. GAAP, such as in Item 402 of Regulation S-K regarding disclosure of executive compensation.²²

In its August 18, 2009 interpretive release, the Commission noted that given the possible confusion between Commission rules and staff guidance, on the one hand, and the FASB’s Codification, on the other hand, effective immediately, references in Commission rules and staff guidance to specific standards under U.S. GAAP should be understood to mean the corresponding reference in the FASB Codification. In the August 18, 2009 release, the Commission stated that it intended to embark on a longer term rulemaking and updating initiative to revise comprehensively specific references to specific standards under U.S. GAAP in the Commission’s rules and staff guidance. This release is a result of that initiative with respect to the Commission’s rules and forms.²³

Most of the technical amendments in this release result from a straightforward conversion of the prior U.S. GAAP reference to the corresponding reference in the FASB Codification. For a few specific references, the specific U.S. GAAP standard referenced in the Commission rule or form was superseded by the FASB prior to the establishment of the FASB Codification. In these instances, the particular term referenced in the Commission rule or form is no longer used in U.S. GAAP, or has a meaning different than under the prior referenced standard. In these instances, these amendments either delete the prior U.S. GAAP reference without replacement where it is no longer needed, or incorporates directly into the Commission rule or form the definition that had been used in the now-superseded standard in U.S.

²³ References to U.S. GAAP in Commission staff guidance in the codification of Staff Accounting Bulletins have been updated as a result of SAB No. 114 issued on March 7, 2011, available at <http://www.sec.gov/interps/account/sab114.pdf>. In addition, the Commission is adopting a technical amendment to the heading of Part 210 of the Code of Federal Regulations to remove a reference to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, which was repealed by the Energy Policy Act of 2005. Public Law 109-58 § 1263, 119 Stat. 624, 974 (2005).

The Industry Guides serve as expressions of the policies and practices of the Division of Corporation Finance. They are of assistance to issuers, their counsel, and others preparing registration statements and reports, as well as to the Commission’s staff. The Industry Guides are not rules, regulations, or statements of the Commission. The Commission has neither approved nor disapproved these interpretations. GAAP, as appropriate. All of the changes are technical in nature and none of the changes are intended to represent a substantive change in the underlying rules or forms.

III. Certain Findings

Under the Administrative Procedure Act, a notice of proposed rulemaking is not required when the agency, for good cause, finds that notice and public comment are impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest.²⁴ These amendments are technical changes to eliminate obsolete terminology and revise reporting and disclosure requirements as necessary to achieve consistency between the Commission's compliance requirements and the FASB Codification. Because no one is likely to want to comment on such non-substantive, technical amendments, the Commission finds that it is unnecessary to publish notice of these amendments.²⁵

The Administrative Procedure Act also requires publication of a rule at least 30 days before its effective date unless the agency finds otherwise for good cause.²⁶ Because the amendments are non-substantive, and no affected parties would need time to learn of the changes and modify their practices, the Commission finds there is good cause for the amendments to take effect on August 12, 2011.

IV. Consideration of Competitive Effects of Amendments

Section 23(a)(2) of the Exchange Act requires the Commission, in adopting rules under the Exchange Act, to consider the competitive effects of such rules, if any, and to refrain from adopting a rule that would impose a burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Exchange Act.²⁷ Because these amendments merely make technical changes to update references to applicable paragraphs, subtopics, or topics in the FASB Codification, we do not anticipate any competitive advantages or disadvantages will be created.

V. Statutory Basis and Text of Amendments

We are adopting these technical amendments pursuant to Sections 6, 7, 10, and 19 of the Securities Act,²⁸ Sections 3, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 17, and 23 of the Exchange Act,²⁹ and Sections 8, 20(a), 24, 30, and 38 of the Investment Company Act.³⁰
