AN ACT

To enhance Federal Trade Commission enforcement against illegal spam, spyware, cross-border fraud and deception, and other consumer protection law violations, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; FINDINGS; PURPOSE.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the “Undertaking Spam, Spyware, And Fraud Enforcement With Enforcers beyond Borders Act (‘U.S. SAFE WEB Act’) of 2005.”.

(b) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds the following:

(1) The Federal Trade Commission protects consumers from illegal spam, spyware, cross-border fraud and deception, and other consumer protection law violations. Illegal spam, spyware and cross-border fraud and deception in particular are growing international problems that affect American consumers and businesses.

(2) The development of the Internet and improvements in telecommunications technologies have brought significant benefits to consumers. At the same time, they have also provided unprecedented opportunities for those engaged in illegal spam, spyware, fraud and deception to establish operations in one country and victimize a large number of consumers in other countries.

(3) An increasing number of consumer complaints collected in the Consumer Sentinel database maintained by the Commission, and an increasing number of cases brought by the Commission, involve foreign businesses or individuals, foreign consumers, or assets or evidence located outside the United States.

(4) The Commission has legal authority to remedy law violations involving domestic and foreign wrongdoers, pursuant to the Federal Trade Commission Act. The Commission's ability to obtain effective relief using this authority, however, may face practical impediments when wrongdoers, victims, other witnesses, documents, money and third parties involved in the transaction are widely dispersed in many different jurisdictions. Such circumstances make it difficult for the Commission to gather all the information necessary to detect injurious practices, to recover offshore assets for consumer redress, and to reach conduct occurring outside the United States that affects United States consumers.

(5) Improving the ability of the Commission and its foreign counterparts to share information about illegal spam, spyware, cross-border fraud and deception, and other consumer protection law violations, to conduct joint and parallel investigations, and to assist each other is critical to achieving more timely and effective enforcement in cross-border cases.

(c) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this Act is to enhance the ability of the Federal Trade Commission to protect consumers from illegal spam, spyware, cross-border fraud and deception, and other consumer protection law violations.

SEC. 2. FOREIGN LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY DEFINED.

Section 4 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 44) is amended by adding at the end the following:
