

OBAMA MEMORABILIA FROM AFRICA COLLECTION

Obama Memorabilia from Africa is a special collection of ephemera housed in the African Middle East Division and is technically part of the African Pamphlet Collection, which is also maintained in the division. The majority of the items in the collection, which has more than 150 objects, were acquired by the Library of Congress' Overseas Field Office in Nairobi, Kenya. U.S. embassies on the continent and the Embassy of Kenya in Washington, DC also made significant contributions to the collection. Other materials were later donated to the collection from individuals and organizations that had access to relevant materials.

The Obama Memorabilia from Africa Collection draws a variety of object formats from the African continent, but also contains related materials from other parts of the world such as France, Lebanon, United Arab Emirates, the United Kingdom and the United States.

The Obama Memorabilia from the African Section's Collection in AMED, which includes newspapers, electoral buttons, photographs, magazines, tee shirts, textiles and music CD's, among other formats, comes primarily from Kenya, where Barak Obama Sr. hailed from, but also from Uganda, Ethiopia, Mozambique, Nigeria, Ghana, Niger, Cameroon, South Africa, Angola, Tanzania, Zambia, Sudan and Somaliland.

The African Section was formally established in the Library of Congress in 1960 was also the date that the African Pamphlet Collection was established. The 1960s were pivotal times in sub-Saharan Africa as a number of countries gained independence. Supported initially by a grant from the Carnegie Corporation and later by funds appropriated by Congress, the section continues to advise and cooperate in the Library's acquisition program, provide reference and bibliographic services, and maintain liaison with other research and teaching institutions in the United States and abroad.

The Library of Congress Office in Nairobi, Kenya, is one of six overseas offices located around the world. It acquires and catalogs publications from twenty-nine countries in Africa for the collections of the Library of Congress. The Nairobi Office first opened its doors in fiscal year 1966 as a National Program for Acquisitions and Cataloging (NPAC) office serving the Library of Congress for eastern and southern African publications. The Cooperative Acquisitions Program for the East Africa Region was initiated in 1992 and assist with acquisitions of African monographs and serials for many other libraries and universities in the United States.

This finding aid can be used to search formats, countries of origin and specific items by using the word in the search, for instance "Kenya" or "newspaper" or "Obama Kanga Cloth" to locate materials in the collection.
