

Limitations on the Information Furnished by the Copyright Office

The Copyright Office furnishes information about the provisions of the copyright law and the procedures for making a registration, explains the operations and practices of the Copyright Office, and reports on facts found in the public records of the Office.

The regulations of the Copyright Office (Code of Federal Regulations, title 37, ii) prohibit employees from giving specific legal advice on the rights of persons, whether in connection with particular uses of copyrighted works, cases of alleged foreign or domestic copyright infringement, contracts between authors and publishers, or other matters of a similar nature.

The Copyright Office cannot provide the following services:

- compare copies of works deposited for registration
- advise on questions of possible copyright infringement or prosecution of copyright violations
- draft or interpret contract terms
- enforce contracts or recover manuscripts
- recommend particular publishers, agents, lawyers, “song services,” and the like
- help in getting a work published, recorded, or performed
- grant permission to use a copyrighted work

Many requests for assistance require professional legal advice, frequently that of a copyright attorney. Your local bar association may be able to recommend a copyright attorney. Even though the Copyright Office cannot furnish services of this kind, our policy is to be helpful in supplying authorized information and services.

For Further Information

By Internet

Circulars, announcements, regulations, other related materials, and all copyright application forms are available from the Copyright Office website at www.copyright.gov. To send an email communication, click on Contact Us at the bottom of the homepage.

By Telephone

For general information about copyright, call the Copyright Public Information Office at (202) 707-3000 or 1-877-476-0778 (toll free). Staff members are on duty from 8:30 AM to 5:00 PM, eastern time, Monday through Friday, except federal holidays. Recorded information is available 24 hours a day. Or, if you know which paper application forms and information circulars you want, you can request them 24 hours a day from the Forms and Publications Hotline at (202) 707-9100. Leave a recorded message.

By Regular Mail

Write to:

*Library of Congress
Copyright Office—COPUBS
101 Independence Avenue SE
Washington, DC 20559*

NOTE: The limitation on specific legal advice does not apply to the Office's authority to interpret the Copyright Act through regulations and practices in order to carry out its statutory responsibility to administer the Copyright Act.