enough to follow their revolutionary and anarchistic lead.
The strong common sense of the common people has averted the calamity. While many were deceived and misled the great body was open to reason, saw the danger to our country and its benign institutions and built up an impregnable citadel with their votes against the enemies of liberty law and order.
With their votes they rebuked the Southern Caste Combine and smashed the most dangerous and formidable conspiracy since the slave holders' rebellion.

IT'S ALL OVER NOW.

Ended. The most roaring farce, the exuberant display of idiocy, grandest exhibit of ignorance, fraud, impudence and sculduggery that was ever paraded before the astonished gaze of the world has at last come to an end, and Parker, the man who makes allegations, he cannot prove has been relegated to the rear. He went out shearing and came back shorn.
The leaders who engineered the losing race hatred campaign, will henceforth be infinitesimal elements in American politics, only able like Bunyan's giant, to make grimaces at passers by.
The election of Roosevelt, the Christian soldier, statesman and man of the people is the new edict of emancipation—he will deliver the country from the curse of caste.

Bishop Brown's own co-religionists up North gave him the grand bounce, Bishop Sharp had to submit to a little social equality with Booker T. THE SPIRIT OF CASTE.

We quote from the pastoral letter of the bishops of the Episcopal church the following sentences which deserve special attention:

However otherwise we may classify human society, that classification is universal which divides it into those who believe in the spirit of caste and those who do not.

Journey where you will, the peoples that are in the thickest darkness today are those in which most absolutely the spirit of caste rules.

Touching the race problem the letter after referring to the appointment of a joint commission to investigate the question says:

If by giving them (the negroes) freedom we have only given them the power to work mischief, and if lynching has come to be defended as a necessary protection to families, then surely we are face to face with a situation at once desperate and dishonoring. We may not ignore our social situation, and if the church can have nothing to say about it then she simply disowns her duty and her master.

There, you have it, and we defy the most censorious critic to show that the good fathers of the church were laboring under undue excitement, or indulging in intemperate language. But we must dissent from some of their conclusions; our own opinion being that the spirit of caste rules as absolutely among enlightened nations as among the most barbarous, in the United States as much as in the Fiji Islands. The historian, Macaulay, argued very ingeniously to show that at one period, the church did much to destroy the limitations of caste; but it can readily be shown that at many periods, the church has been the most efficient promoter of caste. As to the Afro-American, the good bishops may truthfully say: "We hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised and we esteemed him not." The spirit of caste dominates the pastoral letter.

THE OLD FLAG STILL WAVES.

The Old Flag waves in triumph. The country is safe; we are redeemed. Parker and Anarchy are defeated and all classes can breathe freely again.

The conspiracy of the Southern Democrats and their Northern allies, led by their paid advocates, Tillman, the "hell scatterer;" Heflin, the red flag anarchist; Vardaman, and Jeff Davis, the school tax segregators, Patten, the boy orator; Hill of New York, Tom Taggart and the rest of the motley crew can now count the cost of their nefarious campaign and contemplate with mingled feelings of chagrin and shame—if they possess any—the wreck and ruin they would have created, were the people fools

The overwhelming and unprecedented plurality of President Roosevelt is a pleasing evidence of his popularity as a man and incontrovertible argument that his views of fairness and right are sustained by a large majority of the people of the United States. His election in such a decided manner has filled us with new hope that the deplorable condition of the class of citizens which we represent will be greatly improved; and, that the spirit of justice and fairness for all men of which he is the embodiment, will grow broader and stronger among the people, and they will hold up his hands and encourage him and sustain him in his good work. Roosevelt is all right the people have said so in unmistakable terms.

The U. S. Supreme Court recently rendered a decision, the immediate effect of which will be to compel the state of North Carolina to pay $27,000 of her bonds which she repudiated during the 70's. It is almost absolutely certain that the remote effects will be of far greater consequence; for millions of such bonds are in existence. Arkansas repudiated the Holford bonds upon the ground that she never derived any advantage from their sale; Mississippi repudiated bonds due to the Rothschilds, because, so Gov. McNutt said, those parties were holding a mortgage over the Holy Sepulchre, and other states repudiated because that was more convenient than to pay them.

The kind hearted Southern missionaries, Tillman, Heflin and Bishops Sharp and Brown, who have been la-

Hearst have formed a political triumvirate which proposes to down the Hill-Parker-Belmont combine, scoop up the populists and bury the Democratic party. Bryan and Watson will furnish the brains and Hearst the money of the new concern.

to enter into the question of the right of a soldier to marry an Afro-American woman if he so desires as far as army regulations are concerned. Smith will be put out of the army simply because he is considered guilty of an action which has brought to him an unenviable notoriety and caused trouble among his comrades and the citizens with whom he is associated.

Rendolph Franklin Fortune, a messenger in the War Department at Washington, D. C., and Miss Dickie Joyce, a teacher in the public schools of Columbus, Ohio, were secretly married this summer at Falls Church, Va., by Rev. G. S. Somerville, rector of the Episcopal church at Falls Church. Miss Joyce visited in Washington the past summer for a couple of weeks and met Mr. Fortune for the first time. It was evidently a case of love at first sight, for before she returned home she was married to Fortune. Every precaution was taken to keep the marriage a secret, and not even the nearest friends and associates of the bride nor her relatives were aware that they were married. Rev. Somerville, when communicated with about the matter, stated that he had been enjoined by both parties to keep the marriage an absolute secret, and for that reason he had not made it public.

"It is against the rule of the Columbus board of education to allow a married woman to teach, and the news of this secret marriage will compel the bride to resign her position as a teacher in the public schools of the city. The news of the secret marriage has created quite a sensation. Miss Joyce is a member of one of the oldest families in Columbus, and has been a teacher in the public schools for some six or seven years. The groom is unknown here."

Prof. William H. H. Hart, the Afro-American lawyer arrested some time ago at Elkton, Md., under the Maryland "Jim Crow" law, and whose case is now in the courts of that state, addressed a large assemblage of Afro-American people at Lincoln Temple, Eleventh and R streets northwest.

There is no sense in depending for redress," said the speaker, "upon the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution. The Supreme Court of the United States doesn't like it, and the white people of this country do not. Some day the amendment will come into its heritage and grow, for it is the magna charta of modern times. We must consider the interstate commerce law. Everything goes down before that—religion, morality, state authority, race, and color. I tell you here, now, that you have found the man who will free you from this contemptible, this so-called 'Jim Crow' law.

Pitchfork Tillman has the gall to charge that the Republican party intends to repeal the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution. The Afro-American voters are willing to take chances with the party which has always stood for human liberty.
