

Washington City

Odd-Fellows' Hall,

Thursday Even'g, June 8, 1854

LAST NIGHT

OF

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN!

KUNKEL'S NIGHTINGALE

OPERA TROUPE!

Will produce the Comic and highly extolled Barlesque on

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN!

Picturing forth

THE CLOUD WITH ITS SILVER LINING!

In simple, terse, and truthful language, depicting the TRUE

CONDITION OF THE NEGRO

Without the tyranny of

Imported Legrees of Yankee Land!

This piece is justly denominated

THE INCARNATION OF THE

Pastimes, Pleasures, & Revelries!

OF THE

SOUTHERN SLAVE

And also embraces

A Fearful Portraiture!

OF THE

WOE, WANT, & MISERY

That awaits the poor

UNRECLAIMED FUGITIVE

In the boasted

HOT-BED OF ABOLITIONISM!

UNCLE TOM

Wanders from place to place, gaining the

Prayers of all Mrs. Stowes'

Yet with such sympathy

RECEIVING NO DOLLARS,

He returns at last

Voluntarily to Slavery,

To beg the crumbs from his master's table, satisfied with

HAPPY SERVITUDE,

In preference to want and

SOCIAL DEGRADATION,

Among the

ABOLITIONISTS OF THE NORTH.

Uncle Tom's Cabin!

|   |               |
|---|---------------|
| Uncle Tom (the fugitive).....                                       | Geo. Kunkel   |
| Gumpton Cute, } Plantation Negroes, on a visit to }                 | Harry Lehr    |
| Bob Ridley, } seek their master in the North. }                     | J. K. Search  |
| Augustus (a dignified Plantation darkey in love with the Rose)..... | W. P. Lehr    |
| Aunt Chloe (desperately in love with Uncle Tom).....                | Levi Brown    |
| Rose of Caroline (daughter of Uncle Tom).....                       | T. Floyd      |
| Rankins (a Musician).....   | Herr Ahrend   |
| Henderson (a Musician).....   | E. T. Hermann |

Previous to the commencement of the piece, a

CONCERT

AND

MISCELLANEOUS OLIO!

BY THE ENTIRE

TROUPE

ADMISSION 25 CENTS.

Doors open at 7½, performance beginning at 8¼ o'clock.

J. T. FORD, Agt.

H. Polkinhorn, Printer, corner of 7th and D streets, opposite the Exchange Bank of Selden, Withers, & Co.