Scope and Content Note

The Danny Kaye and Sylvia Fine Collection documents the life and work of actor, singer, dancer and comedian Danny Kaye and his wife, lyricist, composer, writer, lecturer and producer Sylvia Fine. It includes printed and manuscript music, scripts, correspondence, business and financial papers, promotional and publicity materials, photographs, programs, posters, awards, and realia.

The Music series contains printed parts, scores, orchestral arrangements, and sheet music. Most of the music was used by Kaye for his television program The Danny Kaye Show (1963-1967), performance tours, movies, stage productions, and television specials. The series also includes compositions by Fine in the form of manuscripts, printed music, and lyric sheets, including "Anatole of Paris," "Life Could Not Better Be," and "Melody in 4F." In addition, there are other notable songs that Kaye performed, such as "Tschaikowsky," "The Dodgers Song," and "Ballin' the Jack." Music materials from The John Gary Show (1966), which was a summer replacement series for Kaye's television series The Danny Kaye Show, are in the collection as well.

The Scripts series includes scripts from Kaye's television series The Danny Kaye Show, which featured such guests as Lucille Ball, Gwen Verdon, Ella Fitzgerald, and Louis Armstrong. In addition, there are scripts from his radio series The Danny Kaye Show (1944-1946), The John Gary Show, and television specials such as Kaye's Look-In at the Metropolitan Opera (1974). The film scripts, some of which are housed in personalized leather binders and include black and white 8x10 photographs of movie scenes, include those for Up in Arms (1944), Hans Christian Andersen (1952), The Court Jester (1956), The Man from the Diner's Club (1962), and Skokie (1981).

The Correspondence series contains items to and from Kaye and Fine and is subdivided into Personal and Business subseries. Each subseries includes correspondence from individuals and organizations that reflect the various personal and professional interests of Kaye and Fine, including family, show business, politics, and social causes. Some correspondence contains additional printed material.

The Business Papers series contains materials related to Kaye's television program The Danny Kaye Show, The John Gary Show, films, tours, radio, recordings and special appearances. Materials include contracts, correspondence, financial reports, press and publicity materials, and production records.

The Musical Comedy Library series consists of materials related to a series of three television programs on musical theater that Fine produced and hosted: Musical Comedy Tonight (1979), Musical Comedy Tonight II (1981), and Musical Comedy Tonight III (1985). These shows were based on a series of lectures about musical comedy that Fine taught at the University of Southern California and Yale University. The music materials in the series include sheet music used in all three shows, arrangements from Kaye's television series The Danny Kaye Show and other Kaye performances, scores from various musicals, and miscellaneous printed sheet music. It also includes scripts for the three Musical Comedy Tonight shows, the The Danny Kaye Show, and The John Gary Show, and librettos from various musicals. In addition, the series contains books, photographs and slides, programs and press material, business papers, posters, production materials and set designs, research materials, scrapbooks, and sketches related to the production of the Musical Comedy Tonight series.

The Other series contains an array of materials, including awards; realia; scrapbooks; photographs; framed items, including caricatures, awards, and magazine covers; autographed books and magazines; and portrait paintings of Kaye. Many items in the series are accompanied by correspondence, programs, reviews and other printed material.

The awards include honorary degrees, certificates, citations, medals, plaques, statues, proclamations, and keys to cities. The list of awards is subdivided into those received by Kaye alone, by Fine alone, and by both. Danny Kaye received many awards for his humanitarianism, such as the Lions International Humanitarian Award (1973-1974), and several awards from the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF). The awards given to him as an entertainer include the Kennedy Center Honor (1984), induction into The Entertainment Hall of Fame Foundation (1974-1976), an Emmy Award (1963-1964), and several nominations from the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. Fine's awards include an Emmy Award (1975-1976) from the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, a George Foster Peabody Broadcasting Award (1979), and an award and appointment to the Advisory Committee on the Arts (1962) by John F. Kennedy.

The realia includes such items as an engraved walking stick from Harry Lauder (1949), a parachute, a bull whip, souvenir baseballs, statues, plaques, commemorative plates, paperweights, model airplanes, graduation robes, mementos, swords, trophies, and a variety of other items.

The audiovisual materials are housed in the Library of Congress Motion Picture, Broadcasting and Recorded Sound Division and are referenced in this finding aid by a catalog record number. These materials include videos of The Danny Kaye Show and recordings by Kaye.
