

READING

See under the following subjects: "First and Second Reading Before Reference," pp. 241-243; "Journal," "Read Each Legislative Day," pp. 899-900; "Matters Read Into the Record by Senators," p. 649; "Petitions and Memorials," pp. 650-651; "Reading of, by Clerk, Determined Without Debate," p. 768; "Reading by Senator in Debate," p. 768; "Reading, Debate During, Out of Order," p. 768; "Reading Dispensed With," p. 900; "Reading of Documents, Decided Without Debate," p. 768; "Reading Into the Record Out of Order in Morning Business," p. 651; "Reading of, Out of Order in Absence of Quorum," p. 901; "Reading of Papers," p. 973; "Reading of Reports," pp. 1192-1193; "Reading of Resolution," p. 1208; "Third Reading," pp. 245-247.

Reading By Clerk

There is nothing in the rules that requires the reading clerk to stand while he is reading.¹

READING OF BILL THREE TIMES

See "Calendar," pp. 253-267; "Amendments," pp. 24-125; "Bills," pp. 225-250.

RECAPITULATION

See "Quorum," pp. 1038-1078; "Voting," pp. 1397-1437.

¹ Apr. 23, 1980, 96-2, Record, p. 8749.