

Domestic Policy Council, Carol Rasco, Subject File

As the Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy, Carol Rasco headed up the Domestic Policy Council from 1993 to 1997. Her staff included her Chief of Staff, an Executive Assistant, a Scheduler, two Deputy Assistants, a Special Assistant, eight Senior Policy Analysts, and four Staff Assistants. The records series of the Domestic Policy Council (DPC), Carol Rasco Subject Files, reflects the wide range of domestic policy issues Rasco and her staff dealt with on a daily basis. These issues included health care, education, violence and crime prevention, employment, state and local communities, civil rights, Americorps, housing and homelessness, Empowerment Zones, and the arts. The records include memos, letters, reports, meeting notes and agendas, pamphlets, handwritten notes, newspaper clippings, schedules, and magazine and journal articles. Rasco's files include memos to/from DPC staff, White House staff, President Clinton and Vice-President Gore, and various Cabinet members. The files also contain correspondence to/from other agencies who communicated regularly with DPC such as Health and Human Services (HHS), Veterans Affairs (VA), and the Department of Education. The records also include correspondence from public/private organizations, as well as individuals, on various domestic issues. The health care issues contained in the records include AIDS (1993 and 1994), children's health, disabilities, drug and alcohol abuse, Medicaid and state Medicaid waivers, and Medicare. In addition to topics of prevention and treatment, the AIDS files also contain resumes and letters of support for various applicants in the appointment process to the Presidential HIV/AIDS Advisory Council.
