

DWQUERY – DATA WAREHOUSE

WHAT IS DATA WAREHOUSE?

The NIH Data Warehouse is a large database that extracts data from NIH systems, and combines them so you are able to access a wealth of business data and information. The Data Warehouse allows a registered user to monitor property and financial activities, evaluate purchasing trends and much more. The reports can be tailored to accommodate any office's requirements. The wide variety of reports includes:

- Budget—outstanding commitments, contracts, printing, training, supplies, equipment repair & maintenance expenses
- Property Management—undeclared property, overdue property loans, transfer of property, property assignments
- Procurement—open requisitions and procurements, year-to-date requisitions
- NIH Travel—planned travel, overdue travel vouchers, sponsored travel
- Human Resource Personnel Costs—personnel costs by pay period, costs by CAN, FTE usage statistics

Reports include full and part time civilians, Commissioned Corps officers, temporary employees, as well as IRTAs and visiting fellows.

The Data Warehouse is updated nightly, so reports are complete and up-to-date.
