

Susan A. Ehrlich, J.D., LL.M.

Susan A. Ehrlich is a graduate of Wellesley College (B.A.) and Arizona State University College of Law (J.D., LL.M. – biotechnology and genomics). She clerked for the Chief Justice of the Arizona Supreme Court before joining the United States Department of Justice in Washington. She returned to Arizona to join the United States Attorney's Office and she subsequently was appointed a judge on the Arizona Court of Appeals, serving almost 19 years before her retirement in 2008. Among her other activities, she has served on the Institutional Biosafety Committee of the University of Arizona, and she serves on a National Academies committee while also an adjunct professor at the Barrett Honors College, Arizona State University.