CHALLENGE Number 2000-0037

Dear

This responds to your challenge to the Army's 1999 FAIR Act inventory. Your challenge concerns one activity.

Standing. As an employee within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. 2105 performing functions included under Function Code Y200, "Commanders and Support Staff," you are an "interested party" who is qualified to submit challenges of inclusion or exclusion to the Army list. Other issues raised in your challenge are not relevant to FAIR Act determinations.

Date of Receipt. I received your Challenge on January 27, 2000.

Commander Support Staff

Activity Challenged. You have challenged the inclusion on the list of Function Code Y200, "Commanders and Support Staff," as defined in the functional definition at the Army web site, <http://www.asamra.army.pentagon.mil/fair>, which is hyperlinked to the DOD FAIRNET website at <http://gravity.lmi.org/DODFAIR>.

Decision. I have determined that the activities included under Function Codes Y200 are, for the most part, not inherently Governmental. Therefore, they are properly included in the Army's FAIR Act list.

Rationale. The FAIR Act list includes only functions and activities that, in the judgment of the head of the agency, are not inherently Governmental. An inherently Governmental function includes those activities that require either the exercise of substantial discretion in applying Government authority or the making of value judgments in making decisions for the Government. The Army FAIR Act list presumes that substantial discretion in the functions included within Function Code Y200 are exercised by personnel who are assigned to grades GS-13 and above within a management headquarters (excluding field operating agencies). However, most of the work involved in performing these functions is performed by personnel at lower grades. This presumption is based in part on the degree to which the exercise of discretion within this function is substantially circumscribed by law, rule and regulation. Another consideration is that many of the functions included in Function Code Y200 are performed in the private sector.

Significance. The significance of a non-inherently Governmental designation for an activity is discussed at the Army web site hyperlinked to the DOD FAIRNET at <http://www.asamra.army.pentagon.mil/fair>. In some cases there may be legal impediments to contracting activities designated as non-inherently Governmental, as reflected in statutes, international agreements, and restrictions on contracting for personal services. In other cases, the Army may consider it imprudent to contract activities designated as non-inherently Governmental based on risk assessment and national security considerations, or enlightened human resources management. Such a determination has been made at the present time in the case of some portion of the activities included within this challenge.

Scope. The Army's functions are defined by its unique roles and missions. Therefore, the Army's FAIR Act decisions may not be extended to other agencies with different missions based solely on function code titles. The Army FAIR Act Inventory included civilian positions performing functions within the Army infrastructure and within Civil Works. The FAIR Act Inventory excluded all contractor positions and all military positions, as well as all personnel performing functions in the following mission areas within the Army: Major Theater of War, Smaller Scale Contingency, Base Engagement Force, Strategic Reserve, Domestic Support, or Homeland Defense.

Appeal Rights. You have the right to appeal my decision since it is adverse to your Challenge. The specific procedures for submitting an appeal are set forth at the enclosure to this decision.
