Spam should be stopped or regulated more than it is at this time. In a position where you have to access the internet everyday, it becomes a hassel. Opening email to read messages important to our jobs becomes a nightmare when you have numerous spam messages. My husband opened his email, he was using the address that he opened with the server, when he gets at least tens of thousands in a matter of a few days. 99.5% of the emails he receives are spam. He had to open another account and tell all of the family and business relations he has to send to that account because it receives less spam. Please put an end to the nightmare!
