Comments:

Graded Agency:

DHS recognizes the value and expertise the small business community offers in support of the DHS mission. Over the years, small businesses have been essential in providing critical capability in the form of products and services that meet our needs. DHS looks forward to our continued partnership with SBA as we continually identify small business procurement opportunities. In the past year, we deeply appreciate SBA's recognition of our efforts with the SBA Administrator's Leadership Award and the Frances Perkins Vanguard Award. Although we have an excellent record in the small business contracting arena, we plan to do more in cooperation with SBA.
