FOR TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER

FLC advancing federal research and technology

The Federal Laboratory Consortium for Technology Transfer (FLC) and the National Technical Information Service (NTIS) continuously collaborate on the process of Federal Technology Transfer.

The FLC is the nationwide network of federal laboratories that provides the forum to develop strategies and opportunities for linking laboratory mission technologies and expertise with the marketplace. The FLC consists of more than 250 federal laboratories.

As an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, the NTIS mission is to provide for the acquisition, archiving and dissemination of technological, scientific, and engineering information. Much of this permanent repository of information is the result of research conducted by federal laboratories that are members of the FLC. The collaborative effort of the FLC and NTIS ensures the perpetual availability of this vital research to American businesses and industries.

“NTRL has been a wonderful addition to our collection of online databases. The full text reports have made it much easier to provide complete documents to our students, particularly our distance learning students. We all spend much less time pulling, viewing and re-filing microfiche.”
