2. Papers relating to the family and business affairs of other persons who have had correspondence with Earl D. Eisenhower.
3. Papers relating to investigations of individuals or to appointments and personnel matters.
4. Papers containing statements made by or to Earl D. Eisenhower in confidence unless in the judgment of the Director of the Dwight D. Eisenhower Library the reason for confidentiality no longer exists.
5. All other papers which contain information or statements that might be used to injure, harass, or damage any living person.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The papers of Earl D. Eisenhower cover the years 1917 to 1970. Mr. Eisenhower, a younger brother of General Dwight D. Eisenhower, died in December 1968. The papers consist of letters between Earl and his brother Dwight from 1954 to 1966; letters and telegrams between Earl Eisenhower and others, including letters from and to his brothers Milton and Edgar; a copy of the 1917 Abilene High School yearbook; assorted items of memorabilia; awards, diplomas and certificates presented to Earl Eisenhower; and several photographs.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Earl Eisenhower was born in Abilene, Kansas, in 1898. He was graduated from the University of Washington in 1923 as an electrical engineer. He then moved to Charleroi, Pennsylvania, and worked as an engineer for the West Penn Power Company. He married his wife Kathryn in 1933. They had one son and one daughter. In 1955 he moved to La Grange, Illinois, and became the public relations director for a chain of suburban newspapers. Earl entered politics in 1964 and was top Republican vote-getter in an unprecedented at-large election for the Illinois House of Representatives. Two years later he ran for clerk of Cook County. Losing heavily, he retired to Scottsdale, Arizona, where he died of a heart attack in December 1968.
