

1920

2020

womensvote100.org

Herstory Corner: Your At-Home Centennial Guide

A Fraught Friendship

This week's Suff Buffs blog explores the long and sometimes tumultuous friendship between iconic activist leaders Susan B. Anthony and Frederick Douglass. Anthony and Douglass were close friends and colleagues, but the two disagreed in their pursuits for equality and justice. Learn more on The Suff Buffs.

Read the blog

Check out our website and Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram for more resources and activities.

Talking About Race

This week, the Smithsonian’s National Museum of African American History and Culture launched a new online portal called “Talking About Race,” which provides resources to help individuals, families, and educators understand and discuss how racism impacts American society. As we commemorate the centennial of the 19th Amendment this year, “Talking about Race” can be a helpful tool to inform honest and open conversations about the role of race in the history and the legacy of women’s fight for the vote.

Learn More

Rightfully Hers Pop-Up Exhibit

This free pop-up display, titled “Rightfully Hers,” tells the story of the relentless struggle of diverse activists throughout U.S. history to secure voting rights for all American women. Display this pop-up in 2020 and beyond to continue educating your community about the long history of political protest and the fight for equality in the United States. Reserve your pop-up by June 27. Contact popup@nara.gov or click here for more info.

Book your free pop-up!

Visit

THE SUFF SHOP

Your Official Centennial Gear

Tubman,
Wells,
Terrell,
Truth &
Douglass.

Women's Suffrage Centennial Commission
P.O. Box 2020, Washington, DC 20013

Connect With Us

